

Safeguarding the Roots of Our Community: Blacksburg's African American Heritage

THE BLACKSBURG MUSEUM AND CULTURAL CENTER

About Us

The Blacksburg Museum and Cultural Center is committed to preserving and sharing the rich history, art, and music of the region. We achieve this through exhibits, lectures, and community events that educate and inspire

Why We Need Your Support

BMCC is in the final stages of restoring the historic St. Luke and Odd Fellows Hall, a vital landmark that once served as a social and cultural center for the African American community during segregation. To complete this project, we are seeking funding for interactive exhibits that will:

Honoring African American History

By sharing the stories of strength, pride, and resilience in the face of injustice.

Engaging in New Ways of Learning

Using hands-on, sensory-rich displays proven to deepen understanding and retention.

Teaching Local History

So that the struggles and achievements of the past continue to inform and inspire future generations.

Why It Matters

Preserving this building and its legacy is not just about the past—it's about equity, education, and unity. These exhibits will help ensure that this vital chapter of Blacksburg's history is never forgotten, and that all members of our community see themselves represented in our shared story.

What You Can Do

Join us in preserving and sharing this essential piece of Blacksburg's heritage. Your financial support will directly fund the creation of these exhibits and help us open the doors of St. Luke and Odd Fellows Hall as a space for education, reflection, and community pride.
